Easy to set up

Preloaded templates

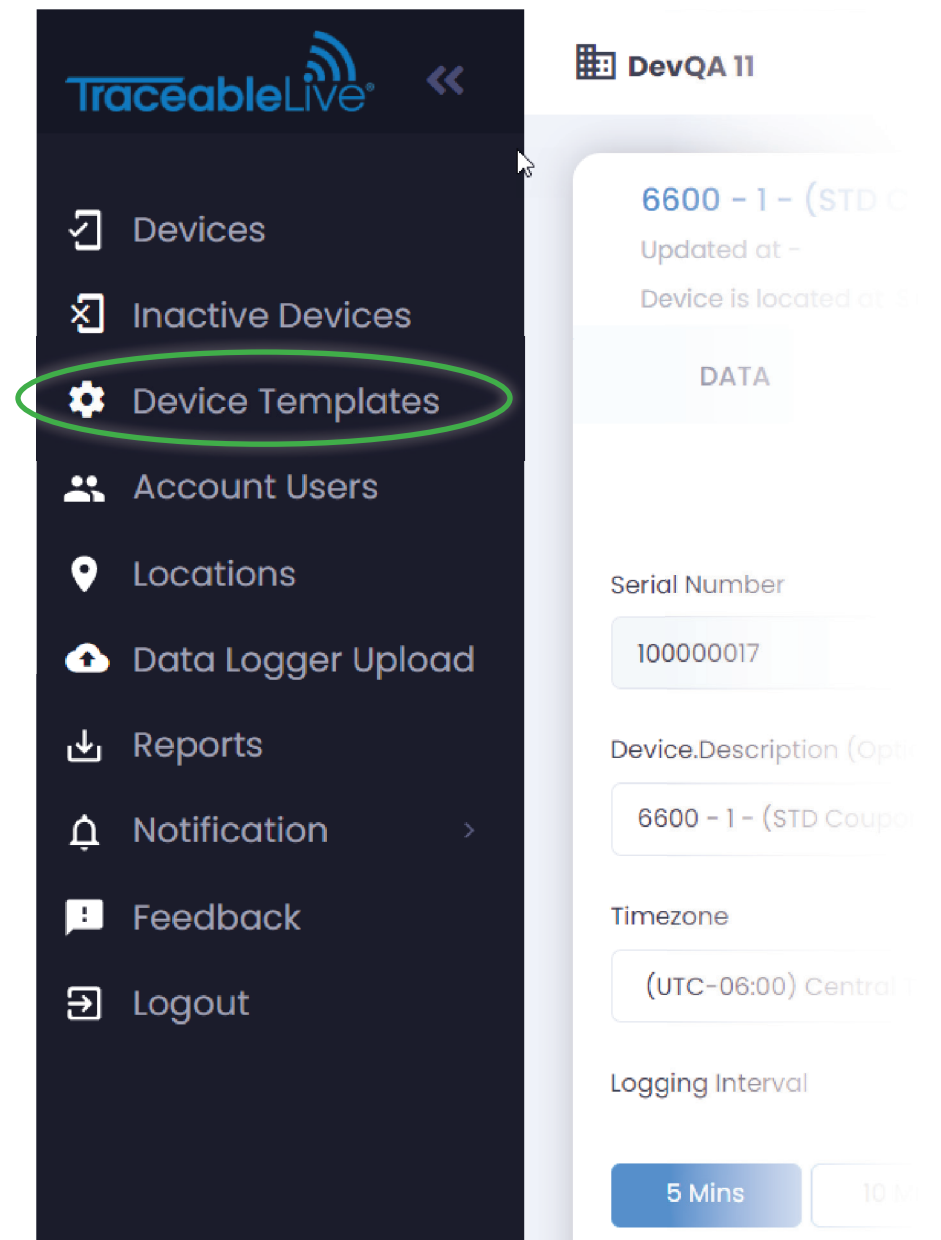

- We've done it for you. Simply use the preloaded templates complete with all of the information you need for monitoring Spex® chemical products according to the manufacturer's preferred settings
- Additional template suites, including some ZeptoMetrix® products, are also in the works
- Available to Standard and Premium subscribers

Custom templates

- Build your own templates to meet your exact needs. TraceableLIVE Premium subscribers can create an unlimited number of their own templates using parameters for min/max, time zones, times, and notification types, as well as the name and description of their template

Device-based user notifications

- All TraceableLIVE subscribers can apply monitoring and alarm settings by device instead of by location for a simplified setup, notifications on a 'per-device' basis, and assignment of users to specific devices

More ways TraceableLIVE makes life in the lab a little easier

- Voice Notification Escalation now available for TraceableLIVE Premium subscribers
- TraceableLIVE Premium subscribers will now be able to set up an escalation path that generates an automated phone message for out-of-range conditions to mobile and landline phones
- Easy setup—just configure as an Escalation in the Escalations menu
- Ideal for high importance escalations

Get notified wherever you are— it's all on your wrist!

- Accessing your TraceableLIVE devices couldn't be easier
- TraceableLIVE paid subscribers will be able to access their devices and notifications via Apple Watch®

Meet compliance requirements with USB for VFC

- All TraceableLIVE users will be able to output secure PDF files as required by California code
- Download CSV files from all Traceable® Excursion-Trac™ devices
- Upload USB data from Excursion-Trac data loggers to the TraceableLIVE cloud

Performance and speed improvements with app update

- App will automatically update on your phone OR you can manually update it if auto-updates are turned off
- All TraceableLIVE users will be able to receive the new updated app
- Update allows TraceableLIVE to better support users with future functionality improvements

Prepaid Subscription Packages

Now you can get TraceableLIVE without monthly charges on your credit card. Simply order a subscription for 1 or 2 years. You can add it to your new TraceableLIVE product purchase or order it alone to add to one of your current TraceableLIVE devices.
